Subject: Chat with Catalina Saldaña
From: "Catalina Saldaña" <cat.salda@gmail.com>
To: barriticus@gmail.com

3:57 PM Catalina: hey me: yo yo yo 3:58 PM these are pretty cute socks, I hung them up on my bamboo tie rack for safekeeping Catalina: thanks
you are so lucky not to have an office job me: crackhead pete came by last night and went for his knife while arguing with Andy so I had to push him out of the apartment 3:59 PM Catalina: oh no, still with the drama me: I know, I worked at an ad firm for a month before quitting yes, but I told him we'd disable him if he came back, so hopefully he won't come back the uncouth fellow!
THE SCOUNDREL!
4:00 PM thank God I got him out of there when I did, as our new roommate showed up two minutes later it would have been difficult to explain why I was fighting with a murderous Puerto Rican crackhead Catalina: haha also i am not a call girl me: trying to maintain the ambiance Catalina: i dont have "dates" me: call girls don't have affairs 4:01 PM sophisticated young Manhattan girls have affairs Catalina: i am also not sophisticated me: relative to this neighborhood, you are 4:02 PM maybe sophisticated is the wrong word Catalina: i need to go home.
me: I've gotten about five e-mails regarding the craigslist ad for the room from girls who are not actually looking for a room 4:03 PM sick?
Catalina: weird not really sick its just been a long day and i might kill someone if i stay here me: understood Catalina: ill talk to you later

me: word